Strategy

- Support of interdisciplinary and bioinformatics research
- Theoretical development collaborative projects with academia, pharma and other industries
- Computational infrastructure in collaboration with industry (parallel computing, etc)
- Knowledge base: Website bioinformatics.ed.ac.uk Software, methods, and algorithms. Bioinformatics databases
- Teaching MSc courses, PhD programmes, seminar series

Strategic Collaboration:

Institute for Systems Biology
(Japan) Feb 2006

Strategic Collaboration:

Riken Genomics Science Centre (Japan) Nov 2006

Scottish Bioinformatics Research Network

- University of Dundee
- University of Edinburgh
- University of Glasgow
- MRPs
- Scottish Bioinformatics Forum

Funding

- University of Edinburgh (College Science and Engineering, School of Informatics).
- Scottish Bioinformatics Research Network grant to fund two software developers and project manager. Started May 2006 for 4 years
- Centre for Systems Biology at Edinburgh. Starting October 2006

Establishing world-wide scientific collaborations

- USA
- Japan
- India
- China
- Thailand
- Korea
- Spain
- Russia

Meetings

- BioDatabases (databases in bioinformatics) (January 05)
- SYSBIO EU training course in systems biology (April 05)
- CMSB 2005 (Computational methods in Systems Biology (April 05)
- Glasgow/Edinburgh Workshop on Systems Biology (April 05)
- SIGSIM AT ISMB (June 05)
- Systems Biology of plants (July 05)
- UK Neuroinformatics Network (July 05)
- Functional Genomics of the nervous system CSH (September 05)
- Annual Strategic Steering Committee Meeting (Sep 05)
- Pathway in medicine (November 05)
- Systems Biology meets Neuroinformatics Edinburgh (April 2006)
- GSK bioinformatics workshop (June 2006)
- International Women's Forum (Oct 2006)
