

PROFESSIONAL ISSUES
Setting the Agenda
MICHAEL FOURMAN

No man is an island...

- Social, economic, ethical, and legal frameworks shape the software/hardware ecosystem.
- Architectures, operating systems, programming languages, applications, companies, and individuals, rise and fall.
- Society guarantees some rights, and imposes many responsibilities and obligations. You have to live and work within this framework, and contribute to its future development.
- Non-technical forces will play a role in shaping what you can achieve. To understand some of these forces may be helpful.
